Dear Sirs:

In several months I will be moving to Rutgers University with my colleague Dr. Julie Fagan, where plan to continue our studies on how cells protect themselves against damage by oxidants and free radicals. In particular, we are interested in the toxicity of oxygen radicals and the metabolic products of alcohol on the proteins in the brain. We would be grateful if you would send us a description of the research programs supported by your organization and an application for a research grant.

Sincerely yours,

Lloyd Waxman
